Encourage your child to read for fun! Finding the right book can be just the motivation a child needs. Here are some ideas for helping a student choose a book:

- A novel with a good balance of text and pictures with page-turning drama
- An informational book filled with fascinating pictures, diagrams, and timelines
- A storybook biography about a favorite sports hero
- A story character that a child relates to
- A book series with familiar characters, story structure, and illustrations
- An easy reader with a storyline full of adventure
- An audio book narrated by someone with flair and pizzazz
- Also, don't forget the must-read classics. They're the best of the best.

Be sure to use your public library. For young children, bring a book bag and stick the number card "3" inside the bag. Let your child find the card and match her books to the number.

Happy reading!

October Math News!

FREE HOMEWORK HELP FOR FOURTH GRADE PARENTS AND STUDENTS: I have created a YouTube Channel on which I do four or five homework problems from the Go Math homework book with explanation. If your child is stuck on homework one night, go to YouTube, search Mrs. Olvey, and look for the lesson (ex. G4 3 8 would be grade 4, chapter 3, lesson 8).

Halloween Math Hilarity:

Q: If I had seven pumpkins in one hand and eight pumpkins in the other, what would I have?

A: Big hands

Looking for a great math website to practice facts and more?? For our older students, fluency with math facts makes math about a million times more efficient. For younger students, quick recognition of numbers and fluency with place value is vital. A great website to practice in all areas of math is <http://www.sheppardsoftware.com/math.htm>

There are activities for all ages of children with tons of great math games. You can set them as timed or untimed, and enter your initials on the high score record!

GO MATH! WEBSITE Don't forget that you can access the math and science text books, print from the homework workbook (called Common Core Standards Practice on the website), as well as enjoy great math games and tutorials on Think Central. You can access this through ePassport. This link is on the SCPS website (www.scps.k12.fl.us). Your child's login is his/her student identification number and the password is his/her birth date (YYYYMMDD). If you need this information, email me or your child's teacher.

MATH TEAM If your fourth or fifth grade child would like to join the Math Team, please have them come to my room on Monday morning at 8am. All fourth and fifth graders are welcome to come and do some amazing problem solving! No registration, and you can come whenever you can!!

Thank you and keep loving math!!
